The story of cone icecream

Wafey Waffle truck

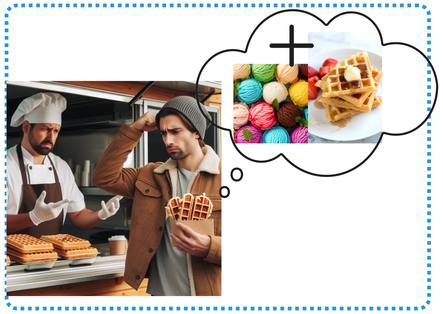
There was a waffle truck outside the city centre

Artic Ice cream truck

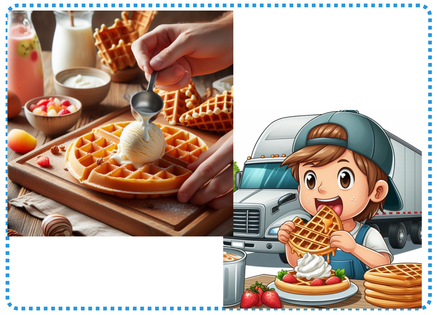
Near the waffle truck, there was a busy icecream truck

It was a busy day, many people were buying. The plates got over.

There were many more customers. The ice cream truck owner was thinking

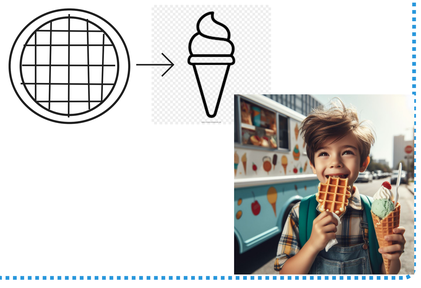


He saw the waffle and got an idea. He bought some waffles from the truck



His idea was putting the ice cream on the waffle using it as a plate

People ate the waffle along with the ice cream



The bowl seemed incovenient, they turned the waffle into cone shape

There were more customers around the truck, both the truck owners merged and created what we have as cone now
